Job Description KAUTEX A Textron Company

Position:	Development Engineer - Components
Department:	Engineering
Position Holders Name:	Linginosinig
Substituted by Position:
Responsibilities:	 Responsible for new product development activities with the focus on component development for sensor cleaning systems This includes also customer project activities with the focus on component integration and system design. Technical concept development in order to provide differentiation and IP protected solutions to our customers. Product responsibility for all design, functionality and quality related topics including prototypes. Ensure establishment of specifications for functional and technical requirements on the basis of customer needs and market observation Execute prototype related testing and lead interaction with central lab validation team for Design Verification Plan (DVP) Identify and work with external partners, suppliers and Institutes. Evaluation of new technologies and suppliers Support EHS activities within the department to ensure both a safe workplace and adoption of safe working practices Within the Innovation Department the position holder reports to the
Experience:	Manager Product Development Technical University Engineering Degree in Mechanics, Electronics, Mechatronics or comparable More than 3 years of work experience automotive Knowledge ADAS and sensors for autonomous driving preferred Experiences in product development Fluent English skills, German would be advantageous Knowledge in construction of plastic components preferred Network to related industry partners and universities preferred Willingness to travel
Competencies: ALL EMPLOYEES Compassion Developing Direct Reports and Others Priority Setting Organizing Drive for Results Ethics and Values	 Action oriented Self Development/Learning on the Fly Team oriented Customer Focus/Business Acumen Compassion Dealing with Ambiguity Drive for results
Date:
Sig. Supervisor	Sig. Position Holder